

January 20, 2019 Clarity Radio Broadcast “Suicide; Forgiveness; Abortion”

(Intro: “Live is Life” by Opus)

And we are back. January the 20th, 2019. My name is Bryan. You are listening to Clarity Radio. Of course, you already know that.

Happy New Year. It’s been some time since I’ve seen many people. I’ve been basically taking a sabbatical, re-wiring myself. It’s been good. I feel rested. My gifts have increased. So, I’m feeling good.

And so, we’re going to talk about... Well, there’s one, two, three, four, five segments. (laughs) You know, it’s going to go by very, very quickly on this cold afternoon in Toronto, Ontario.

So, the first segment is: “Alpha Brain Waves: Suicide.”

Segment 2: “Correction on Forgiveness.” This is an absolute self-empowerment. If you’ve got someone that really needs help in life, call them on the break and tell them to listen to this, to number 2 segment.

Three: “A New Understanding of Abortion.” This is going to help many, many women. I mean, you haven’t heard this one before. It’s profound.

And 4: “Our Inner Conflict.” So, we’re going to be talking about: what truly is our inner conflict and what do we have to basically resolve it? And we’re going to be able to help a lot of people today.

And Segment 5 is: “A Message to Our Canadian Government: Proposal on Cold Fusion.” So, this is going to be very, very, very interesting. So, let’s start.

(Segment 1: Alpha Brain Waves: Suicide)

“Alpha Brain Waves: Suicide.” So, what are we talking about? What is a alpha brain wave? Of course, it’s in the brain. But I’m going to read something that... And it’s tough for me to read because anyone that knows, when I do the program, you know, I’m not reading a Teleprompter. I’m not reading notes. I may have a one line note that says, “Okay, talk about this.” And that’s about it. Then, I just go on talking. And so, I’m going to read this to you. And I’m going to have a tough time.

“Alpha brain waves occur during quiet, flowing thoughts, but not quite.” Then it says, “Meditation. Alpha brain waves are dominant during quietly flowing thoughts and in some meditative states. Alpha is the power of now. Being here. In the present. Alpha is the..." What is it? "Resting state for the brain. Alpha waves aid overall mental coordination, calmness, alertness, mind/body integration and learning."

So, 80% of what I've just read to you is not true. So, I mean, it's very difficult unless you're gifted and you've got my gift. It's very difficult for science, because we don't have the technology to basically plug into someone's brain. And one day, we're going to. Because artificial intelligence is going to get to a level where you're going to be able to be hooked up to something, and some machine is going to be able to read your thoughts. That's coming into the future. But we don't have that. But one really has to have the gift that I have of science, of knowledge, of wisdom, etc.

So, we're going to go to point number two... And we're really going to take that quiet pond, and we're going to throw a large boulder right into the pond. We're going to really challenge one's beliefs. We're going to do it right now. Let's do it now. (splashing sound effect) There. It's done. It's done. Now, we're going to start.

So, let's try to understand alpha brain waves. And what's really interesting: this whole topic of alpha brain waves is going to go into Segments 1, 2, 3, 4 and maybe 5. But when we are talking about alpha waves, the mind is going through stress. Whenever that wave is really active, it's because the mind is always going through stress. So, this state of calmness: this is not true. It's not true. When it's active, it's going through stress.

And the stress comes from receiving thoughts to do something against one's will. See, what I just read you, it doesn't talk about that. But that's what these alpha brain waves... It receives information. And the thoughts are saying, "You got to do this."

And the thoughts, when we speak about alpha brain waves, they're never your own thought. So, science believes it's got something to do with you being calm and you having a... this crazy, wild meditation. It's not your own thoughts. For you to meditate, it would have to be your thoughts. But it's not. And so, when I look at someone, and I look at someone's alpha brain waves: if their alpha brain waves are really active, they have something, some personality external telling them, asking them, suggesting, on a chronic CD level, to do something. And in most cases, it's something that they don't want to do. And they have no way of getting away from it, unless they're aware of where the thoughts are coming from in the first place. And how are you going to find out? Unless you're sitting in front of me, someone who's gifted like myself: you're not going to find out.

And as we go to point number three... One thing that we have to understand is: we're in the matrix. So, the matrix says, "Well, you really don't have much free will." So, when we speak about insanity, there's three steps in the matrix towards insanity. Three steps.

And the first step says, “If you think you have 100% free will, (laughs) that’s your first step to insanity.” If you sat down with me for an hour, you’ll find out very quickly you’ve got very little free will.

And the second step towards insanity is thinking that you can change what has already been written for you to go through. If you’ve got 100% free will, how is it that you can receive a genetic gene, from one of your ancestors, blood line, that says you’re going to get this certain disease? If you truly had 100% free will, the whole concept, the whole idea of genetic disease, receiving a gene from one of your parents, grandparents, great parents, etc: this would not exist. Think about it. It wouldn’t be possible.

So, the third step towards insanity is thinking we are God. Well, so many of us think we’re God, that we can do whatever we want and get away with it, that there’s no consequences. That’s why most of us is in the matrix. Because (laughs) we didn’t get away with it. And so, we’re here to basically heal. But many of us has been duped. And we simply can’t get out of the matrix. Because we’re trapped. And this broadcast, today, is going to help many of you work towards getting out of the matrix, so you can have another incarnation where you do have 100% free will. But the matrix is where you pay your debt. Your spiritual debt.

So, as we go onto point number four... Back to the brain waves. I’m absolutely fascinated. I mean, there’s one brain wave, which is the infra-low brain wave, which I’m not going to talk too much today about. But science really doesn’t know too much about it. But it’s absolutely... Another time. But it’s amazing. But the alpha brain waves, again, they are active when you’re under stress. But it’s also there to facilitate bad karma. Now, it could be your own karma. Or you could be tricked to take on someone else’s karma. It just depends on the situation. And you would have personalities attached to you that is feeding into... well, the physical part of who you are, through the brain waves, asking you to go through some horrible experience, whether it’s your own karma or someone else’s. A lot of people are going through someone else’s karma. You’ve been tricked. You’re going to learn how to get out of that and how to avoid it, in the future.

So, what’s really interesting: you can have up to nine different personalities attached to you, feeding you thoughts through the alpha brain waves. And they could be the same message or they could be totally different messages. Each personality could have a different message, feeding you the message at the same time, causing you extreme, severe mental stress. I would never, ever want to see anyone go through that. This is awful because there’s not too many solutions when you’re going through something like that. It’s terrible. It’s almost you don’t want to be in your own body.

Five. The fifth point... So, in religion... And I don’t want to focus too much on religion. What are the alpha brain waves? What does religion connect their familiar spirits to?

You want to call them, demons. “You’re dealing with your own demons.” You’ve heard the expression, “He’s dealing with his own demons.” These are the personalities that come through your own... your alpha brain waves. And they’re usually, in a lot of cases, thoughts from others, for you to hurt others, maybe on their own behalf. But they kind of stick to the person, depending on what the situation is, and depending on what you agreed to, before you came into this matrix. But it’s usually about hurting others.

So, when we speak about suicide and the connection with alpha brain waves, it’s usually thoughts coming in, in a lot of situations, to take your life. Not to hurt you, but to hurt others. Let’s face it, when someone commits suicide, who really suffers? Right? Is it the person who has committed suicide? Yes, maybe. But it’s the ones that are left behind that live with the guilt, the self-punishment, the anger. “Oh, what...? I could have done something different.” “I should not have kicked this person out of the house.” “I should have been more supportive.” “I should have protected this person more.” But meanwhile, it was written, in a lot of cases, for this to happen. Because we’re in the matrix. Because when your mind starts going in the direction, “I should have done this,” you’re thinking you’ve got 100% free will. And once you move into that direction in this matrix, you’re going to get yourself into a lot of trouble.

Let’s go to point number six. Dealing with the alpha brain waves, the number one brain wave, the key brain wave that causes one to commit suicide... So now, you know what I’ve just read. You know earlier, this meditative state, calmness, living the power of now... What I’m saying contradicts what many believe. When you’re speaking about suicide, and you’re speaking about the alpha brain waves that are really becoming active, and you’ve got all these different personalities coming into the physicality through these alpha brain waves and saying, “You must kill yourself or else...” Because there is a, “Or else.” It’s very frightening. And these individuals, in a lot of cases, they are forced to do it.

And remember: these thoughts are never their own thoughts. They’re always the thought of others. And so, I asked, “Who are the others? Potentially, who are the others?” It could be existing family members. It could be close friends. And people who are just out-and-out completely evil. There are certain people who have this ability, who are really evil, that can send energy, a personality to someone’s alpha brain wave, and make them commit suicide.

Now, you wouldn’t think this is possible. Because I, personally, work in basically all different realms: the physicality, the chemistry, chemistry, yocto science, energy, different dimensions, thought patterns, bring in thought and physicality together, and trying to understand the influence of thought on physicality. Then, trying to understand the matrix. Who’s in charge of the matrix? How does the matrix get changed? There’s so much I deal with, on a moment by moment basis. And it all comes down to one reason, that is: to help you.

So, the seventh point... More on suicide. So, in Canada... We're just going to say Canada. I could say the rest of the world. I'm just going to say Canada. In the last year, I've discerned all... Now, this is very, very interesting. All total car accidents: 90% of the cases where one of the drivers was killed... when one of the drivers was killed, they had the brain waves. They had brain waves. The alpha brain waves was active, saying, "You must kill yourself." I mean, this is really, really frightening. But at the scene of the accident, no one sees that. You basically see a dead body or, later on, a dead body, or you see people being injured. But this is what's happened. But I discerned if no one had these active alpha brain waves: 90% of this type of car accident would be reduced. Because you don't have the other party looking to commit suicide.

And even people killed on bikes... I'd be driving in my car. I will see thirty people on cycles, nice and slim, muscular, usually male. And they look like they're going to the Olympics. They've got these expensive bikes, $1,000 bikes, $2,000, $3,000 bikes. They're driving right in the centre of the road. And so, I would just choose one person. That person. I would see that this person, on some level, wants to commit suicide. That many of them have a death wish. In fact, 90% of the people killed in Toronto in the last year—cyclists—which they had no idea, had active alpha brain waves. Voices in their head. Or maybe its not just voices. It's just thought. Or they just lose control. They don't know what's going on and they just drive their bike in front of a truck. This is what's going on out there. And I know, one day in the future, as we go more into science, on a higher artificial intelligence level, this is going to be verified. But right now, it's just me talking to you.

But therapists are not to blame for suicide. When their patients commit suicide, in most cases—I'm talking 99.9%--they're not to blame. It's very difficult to stop someone when they have these personalities attached to them saying, "You must take your life or else." And these voices, these thoughts: they come from the 100% free will universe experience where, maybe, the one who's looking to commit suicide did something to four people. Maybe they caused them to die, or one person. So, they come into the matrix with these personalities or maybe their family members attached, saying, "We want to get even. You owe us a debt. Now, it's your turn to take your life." Can that happen? Does it happen? Yes.

So, as we go onto point number eight... The science. Alpha brain waves: they don't interact with brain neurons. They don't do it. Even though science believes it does. It doesn't. It interacts with the heart. And the alpha brain waves can actually trigger the heart stem cell to have a heart attack. And that's also a form of suicide. It is the number one brain wave, again, that triggers heart attacks. It's also the number one brain wave that triggers epilepsy and seizures. See, this is not generally accepted by all. But this is true. And it's coming from those personalities... those personalities working through the person's brain wave. I mean, it's frightening. The patient, really, is lost. Because there's not much help for them.

So, as we move onto point number nine... Smoking marijuana. Or digesting it. Cannabis, in connection to alpha brain waves. Okay. Number one: it's not possible for cannabis to trigger any new mental disorder. It's not possible. The mental disorder is already there. Some mental diseases is there based on time release. But it's already there. And it does not make people violent. If the person is violent, there's something already attached to the person—their own personality or another personality—that will make them violent.

But it can make them calm. And it does calm the thoughts. I had one mother who came to me and said, "My son smokes marijuana." And she asked, "Why does he need to smoke marijuana?" Because he's got lots of anxiety. And I said, "Give me a sec." And I said, "Because he's got thoughts that he wants to commit suicide." And she looked at me, "Oh." I said, "Why don't you go to your son, ask your son... He's old enough. Ask him why he smokes marijuana and what is the main thought that he's trying to suppress. And you don't say anything about suicide. You let him tell you the answer, give you the answer." She came back. She said, "Bryan, I did it. And he said, 'Suicide.'" So, there's a lot of people who are going to be smoking cannabis for one major reason: to suppress the suicide thoughts coming from their alpha brain waves.

So, here's the issue. If you smoke one equivalent to a joint... I don't smoke pot. I don't know the language is. I'm going to say, "Joint." You can be 10% impaired. If you smoke two joints: you're 90% impaired. If you smoke three joints, you're over the top. In other words: you should not be driving a car. If you smoke two joints: you should not be driving a automobile. And that's what we're going to have to deal with.

But keep in mind, with the whole idea of suicide, the alpha brain waves: there may be many people out there that may be using the automobile to commit suicide, and unfortunately, end up hurting someone else. And that's the reality. I'm not saying that the government should not have approved cannabis. What I'm saying is, psychologists, psychiatrists, police officers, when they ask, "How many joints did you smoke? Two?" There's a possibility that that person needs some real deep counselling. And that's what I would be encouraging: the government to have these individuals go for counselling and let the counsellors find out if there is a suicide issue. And there probably is. Because the one joint can suppress the alpha brain waves and make you really, really calm. But it can also get you into another state on the flip end. And make you not aware of what's going on. And you're doing 140 on the highway. You think you're going 60 or 70. And you don't see the vehicle has already stopped in front of you. And you collide into that vehicle. That is the risk for many of us, to be on the receiving end of someone who smokes cannabis. But we're going to talk more, in the future, on suicide. But this is a potential serious situation in this country, around the world.

So, we're going to go to a break. And we're going to come back. And we're going to talk about forgiveness. And I'm completely shocked on this issue of forgiveness. But it's going to help you. My name is Bryan. And yes, you are listening to Clarity Radio. And we're coming right back to you. Thank you.

("Lost@ (Live At United Center, Chicago)" by Coldplay

(Segment 2: Correction on Forgiveness)

Okay, that's right. It's mean you're lost, if you're losing. So, my name is Bryan. Welcome. This is Segment 2.

If you are just joining us, you should listen to one. As far as next week, this week, when you come back to the broadcast after this live broadcast, you should... Don't start at two. Go back to number one. Because you need to listen one, two, three, four, in that sequence. Therefore, you're going to really understand what we're talking about.

So, here we go. So, forgiveness. This is the big thing. Now, Segment 1, a lot of you are saying, "Well, you know, what is he saying?" Okay. There's a reason. Because the shoe's going to drop. There... I had to give you this information. So, just hang onto the information that you just heard. Because it's going to become very valuable to you later on. So, just relax. And just trust.

So, forgiveness... So, there has been a major change in the matrix. I have access to a certain book in the matrix that has a lot of profound understanding, knowledge, wisdom. And so, it's a result of having clear access to this new book. I'm able to talk to you fluently about this topic, and how we have messed up. Including myself. And the matrix was turned against us. Now, that's been changed. Now, the matrix is more supporting what those books are all about. And the how and why? That doesn't matter. The only thing you need to know: it has been corrected. So, this is new information, based on this new change. So, here we go.

So before, in other broadcasts, you were led to believe... I was led to believe... that it's okay for man to forgive man. I mean, it just... I mean, if you read scripture, you would get that interpretation, how it's written: yeah, that man should forgive man. And so, I started to look at other people and their experiences. And somebody would maybe come back into this incarnation with cancer. But I would check that they've got the same cancer for the last 30 incarnations. Or they went through the same accident for the last ten incarnations, coming back to have the same experience. But yet, they were forgiving. I mean... They were in a very forgiving nature. Their character, they could easily forgive others. But yet, they were coming back to have this horrible experience. And it just didn't make sense. It just didn't make sense. So, the last 20 days, 30 days, I've been by myself, trying to understand the matrix, given more responsibility in the matrix, and asking for a clear explanation: why is this happening? This should not happen. If you truly forgive someone, you should be... You know, the cord should be cut. And that's what I was led to believe. But the matrix was programmed that that would not happen. And needless to say, when I found this out, I was upset. Because I was going along, based on what the matrix program was doing, based on how people's genes were programmed at the time.

And so, we've all been rewired. And so now, we're not supposed to forgive man. Man is not supposed to forgive man. However, the matrix did not impact the Jewish people. Because the strong Jewish religious people: they believe that only God can forgive, that they cannot forgive another human being. So, their belief is correct, based on the true book and based on the correction made in the matrix. So, we're now in compliance. And so, man is not supposed to forgive another man. Only God is supposed to forgive.

And so, let me move on. Because when you forgive man, there are some huge consequences. And you're going to understand this. And this is going to change the rest of your life. Because you're going to have an exercise. And it's going to change, for most of you, your future. It's going to change it to something better.

So, number two... Let's go back to the understanding of taking steps towards insanity. Right? It's, you know, thinking the steps... thinking you've got 100% free will, thinking that you can change what's written, and, of course, taking on the role of God. I mean, these are the steps towards insanity. But once you sit down, you understand the matrix, and you understand that we're here to basically cleanse, to get out of some mess, some predicament... And it wasn't always necessarily your fault. You may have been tricked in your 100% free will incarnation and you end up here, on behalf of somebody else that should be here instead of you. So, there's a lot of you that I'm helping. You just don't know it. Even though I don't talk to you, I am helping you. You just got to understand that. I am helping you. But I can't tell you what I'm doing, other than, it's good. So having said that, it's great. It really is great.

So, we need to accept that there is something written for us. Que será, será. Whatever will be, will be. We have to accept it, on some level. And we should. Even in the 100% free will universe, man should leave it up to God to forgive. Like I said, the Jewish people got it right. Now, it's through Christianity, many have a DNA program to forgive man. And this has a lot to do with programming, brainwashing, the ancestors passing this belief gene forward. And it's not a good idea to have this gene.

See, as we go into history, other incarnations, many who were members of the clergy--nuns, etc: they use this incorrect understanding to get away with their own karma. And you're going to have to listen to this three times to really let it sink in. Because this is crucial information that you're being provided with to help you and your family members.

So, as we move onto the fourth point... So, allow me to explain. Again, we're looking at a human genetic programming. Now today, humans have a gene that says man cannot forgive man. I mean, you can say, "Okay, I forgive you," it's not going to go through. Chemically, gene, stem cell, biomarkers, brain waves: it's not going to go through. You're just saying it. Because you've got a gene that says you're not allowed to do this. So, all humans, for the most part, have a gene that says only God can forgive. So, that makes it easy. And he says, all humans have a gene that says, "When man forgives man..." This is important now. "When man forgives man, the one being forgiven gets away with murder, their injury, whatever they did to you or to someone else." They get away with it. Not only do they get away with it. When you say, "I forgive you," it invites the person to do the same injury against you, in the matrix, life, after life, after life. And when I say, life: I'm referring to a single incarnation experience. That's what it does. And I just put my hands up in the air, dropped down, and I said something. I don't want to say it on the program. And it's, "Oh my gosh, that's why this person comes back with cancer every incarnation, comes back to have this experience of a car accident, to be murdered, or whatever." This is it. Because in another incarnation, they basically said, "Oh, I forgive the person who injured me." But yet, at the time they weren't supposed to do it. But they did it. And so, this is what this is all about. So, if you've, in another incarnation...

Hear me out. It's just coming to me right now. Some people who are really afraid of cannabis, and they're talking out loud about driving on the highway and being killed: it may be because you were killed by someone who smoked pot, or someone close to you was killed. And maybe you forgave that person. So privately, now what you got to do is say, "If that's the case, I don't forgive anybody. All those other incarnations, I don't forgive anybody." But we're getting to what you're supposed to do. That's why we're talking about cannabis too. Because once you correct that, you change the matrix for you. And then you won't have that fear.

Okay, the fifth... The one that has been getting away with murder, coming back subsequent incarnations to repeat the same injury against you... Let's look at their behaviour. Let's look at it. Let's look at... I call this—I mean all these names—the forgiveness trickster. I'm calling this one, the forgiveness trickster. This one is the pro. This is the master. They've achieved a lot of information, through religion, on how to trick people, from one incarnation to the next, where they get away with all the bad stuff they do to you and other people. And so, when they forgive another, they never mean it. Like, because they're already programmed. These people are basically outside the loop. There are people who are outside the normal matrix understanding. So, they have a different set of genes. They're programmed differently.

They are the forgiveness trickster. Tricks you to forgive them. And they are the best convincing actors. They'll cry in front of you. They'll cry, and cry, and cry until... As soon as you say, "I forgive you," you're done. You've just, within an hour, have taken on their karma. And you've invited them, in a subsequent incarnation, to do the same injury to you. Wow. Because when you forgive them, they end up stealing your soul too. Because they end up taking your good karma. So, they come back in a subsequent incarnation with all your good karma. I mean, these are tricksters. I can't believe... This is what I can't believe. I can't believe that I'm involved in all these wonderful science projects to do with cancer, now getting very seriously involved in energy projects, among doing other things, that I can't believe that, during my working day, I have to deal with this issue. And it's a huge distraction for me. It takes me away from helping seven billion people. But it has been a huge distraction for me. But this is for real.

So, the sixth... What is our God gene genetic program? What does it say when we forgive others, instead of allowing God to forgive? I've repeated these answers already. I've got thoughts coming through me. Just bear with me. So, what are the consequences? Okay so, let's... Okay. The person, again, comes back—which I've stated already—comes back and injures you the same way. Okay? But unless you change it, again... Tell them again. Every subsequent incarnation, the same person comes back to injure you or a family member.

Because you can... You can basically say you forgive someone else who's hurt one of your family members. That allows that person to come back again to hurt the same family member. So, it's not just about you. You got to be careful what you're saying forgiveness for and who. Because you give the person permission to steal your soul, again. Again, take your good karma. Even to the point... Yes, in this matrix, there is something called hell. To even go to hell for them. These people are evil, they're sinister, and they're out there. And they all come from other incarnations through clergy. Every one of them.

They even force people to commit suicide. Again, voices in the heads. That if you do not... Here we go. If you do not go through their karma, you must kill yourself. And it's hard to get out of this because you don't understand why you got yourself in the mess in the first place. Because you were told that it's okay to forgive man. You bought into it. Now, I know someone in Christian religion—priests, ministers—are going to have a very difficult time with me, unless they're gifted. If they truly have a divine, true gift, they would discern that what I'm saying is true. If they do go against me, their gift is not coming from a divine source. And that's the truth. And I can easily prove it to them, in every case. So, this is what we're dealing with.

So, going to the seventh point... So, what does your God gene say on what to do when you are injured directly or indirectly? You are to go... rather do one critical, essential act, response. Well okay, here we go. Let go of your revenge and let the matrix... Now, who is the matrix? God's the matrix. Okay? So, you let the matrix decide the fate of the one who has injured you. So, you never say to another human being, "I forgive you."

Those who have studied religion, if you study it correctly, you would know that Christ, Moses, Abraham, Muhammed never directly forgave another. I'm only going into this religious area because there's a lot of religious people listening. Christ said, "Forgive them, Father." He didn't say, "I forgive them." He said, "Forgive them, Father; they know not what they do." He didn't say, "I forgive them." He asked God. That's our clue. That's our clue. But there's other references that confuse us in scripture that says, no, no, no, no, Bryan. You know, seventy times you're supposed to forgive someone. It's the understanding, the interpretation of forgiveness is what we did not get, that has been... It's been distorted.

So, the eighth... So, what did Christ understand when he said, "Forgive them, Father; they know not what they do." Now, this is what he understood. He knew he was in the matrix. That's number one. But disciples were not allowed to talk about this. And he knew man could not forgive man. He knew holding onto revenge kept you in the matrix. That's right. And he knew, in the matrix, one does not have 100% free will. He knew this. He knew that Simon Peter would mislead the world. He knew that. Because he's in the matrix. Because it's part of the exercise that Simon Peter was supposed to do this, for whatever reason. It was written this way. That's why he knew. If we had 100% free will, he would not have known what Simon Peter would have done.

So, the ninth... So, how did Christ know that Simon Peter would mislead the world? As we continue... So, Simon Peter found a way. And he did, along with the other disciples, based on the teachings of Christ: how to have everlasting immortality, by causing great injury to others, not paying karma, stealing people's souls, taking on their good karma, gaining huge power, by simply encouraging people to forgive him and forgive others that was connected to him. Simon Peter built the church mainly to avoid karma, to avoid sowing and reaping. And man reaps what he sows. If there was 100% free will, that is not possible. How does a man reap what he sows? How? How does it work? You've got to be in the matrix, where it's already programmed for you to go through that certain experience.

And the truth is, if Christianity religion stops the practice of man forgiving man, then it would collapse. So, when we are speaking of forgiveness, what we're really speaking of is letting go of your revenge. So, when someone harms you, you simply say to yourself, "I let go of any revenge I have towards that person." That is the equivalent of actually forgiving that person. You want to be able to let go of the revenge. Then, you say, "Whatever this person has done to me, the injury, whatever the outcome, however the matrix is going to deal with this person, let the matrix deal with that person." But you don't go and say, "I forgive that person." Because then, you take on their karma; you take on everything. And I did not have this understanding, only until there was a correction made in the matrix to allow this to happen.

So, we're going to take a break now. And we're going to go onto the issue of abortion, Segment 3. And of course, you know it's still the 20th of January, 2019. You're listening to Clarity Radio. And my name is Bryan. We'll be right back. Thank you.

("Have It All" by Jason Mraz)

(Segment 3: New Understanding of Abortion)

And that's right. That's why you're listening: because I certainly want you to have it all. So, here we go. My name is Bryan. This is the third segment.

If you're just coming after the broadcast, listening, and you're just going to number three: uh-uh. Go back to one and two segments. Then, listen to three. And that goes for the rest of the segments. So, here we go.

We're going to go onto number three here. And what are we going to talk about? Yes, abortion. Not an easy topic. It's never an easy topic for me. And it's not an easy topic for someone to listen to this broadcast who has had an abortion. But there's hope. And there's a way for you to really free yourself.

So, here. Number one... A very, very strong message here. This is the matrix. Firstly, it's not logical for man, government to bring in any laws against abortion. We're in the matrix. It doesn't make sense. You know, you're going to bring in a law against a woman not to have an abortion, when the matrix says she has come in to have that experience, for whatever reason. So, for that reason, it's not logical. It creates much more hardships, much more problems. And these laws are assuming that a woman has 100% free will. It's assuming that we all have 100% free will. Go back to Segments 1 and 2, and listen to what I speak of free will.

So, the actual decision for a woman to have an abortion has been made for them, before they basically came into the matrix. However it's been made. Maybe they were tricked. Maybe they're taking on someone else's karma. There's so many different reasons. But every woman who has had an abortion came in where it was written for them to have it, based on sowing and reaping, based on something else, based on evil, whatever it is. And they would have had, at the time, very active alpha brain waves. As soon as they got pregnant, the alpha brain waves... And these are not their own thoughts. You got to go back to one and two to understand what I'm talking about... segments. And the alpha brain waves would be saying, "You got to do it or else." This is what... We, the government, man, other women, professionals, psychiatrists, psychologists, clergy: you need to understand this. We've got to be more supportive with the issue, instead of just saying the law, you can't have an abortion. Or you can have an abortion if there's a risk to the mother. We have to get it. But it's not our fault.

It's not my fault. It's no one's fault. And how the matrix is written, it's only now we're supposed to get it. So, no one's made a mistake.

So, number two... So, I say to all governments of the world: based on the new understanding, I mean, should a woman be punished? Should she be exiled? Should she be degraded? Should she be forced to commit suicide? I mean, what is the answer? Well, the answer is what's written. But even what's written... What's really neat about what's written: if it's written to be changed, that's also part of what's written. So, it's not just one hardline required response, experience in the matrix. It's all about action, reaction. So, it's not that bad.

So, the third point... So, on what grounds has a woman come into this matrix, pre-programmed, pre-written to have an abortion? I'm not saying all of them. But many will fit into this category. Why? I'm just thinking: why? It goes back to this whole forgiveness issue. Like, here we go... Instead of allowing God to forgive, they went and forgave something, someone. And they forgave someone for different possible injuries.

And again, you really may have to listen to this segment, the whole broadcast three times. Because you're going to find that every time you listen, you're going to realize that, "Hey, I didn't really... thought he made that statement. This is new information I'm learning." And that's why you will know that this information is bang on. As the British would say, "Spot on." And you keep listening to it, you go, "Oh, this is new. This is actually fascinating."

So, as we move onto the fourth point... There's five reasons what caused a woman to come into this matrix and have an abortion. But thank God there is a solution for women. And I'm really hoping seven billion people will eventually get this information, and so we can change the world. So, they forgave someone who maybe raped them, got them pregnant. And they had an abortion.

See, the people who rape, they really, really don't understand the injury that they do to women, to the one that's been aborted. They... And nor do they care. They really, really don't care. But after the woman was raped, had the abortion, they may have gone to clergy or someone and said, "Yeah, I forgive the person," only to invite, in a subsequent incarnation, to be raped again, to have an abortion.

So, the second reason: they forgave a spouse who forced them to have an abortion. Okay? Same thing: they forgave.

Or they forgave a one-night stand. Got them pregnant. Forced to have an abortion.

Or they forgave a man who raped them without their knowledge. Drugs, date-rape drugs, whatever.

Or they forgave a man who got them pregnant when they were a prostitute.

These are possibilities. So, they—each one of them—they went and they forgave the individual, which they should not have done. But they did. Like many of us. Which I would have done. But now, I've got this understanding. Now, it's different.

So, when we look at point five... Taking all the five examples, so how does the matrix need women to react? See, I'm in my comfort zone when I'm not reading a document on this broadcast. You know, anyone that watches me read something, I just have a tough time. Yeah, they're nodding their heads. Yeah, they know that. I have a tough time. So, what... If you're raped, what are you supposed to do? Do not forgive anybody. Let God and let go. And you need to understand that the matrix is God. Nothing else. The matrix is God. And so, you need to let go of your revenge. You let go of your revenge towards everybody, in reference to the overall situation. And if he's coming to you crying, begging you for forgiveness: you don't do it because he's coming back to you to do it again.

You go in a private room and you say, "I let go of all my revenge in reference to the injury that's been done to me," or someone close to you. And "I will let the matrix deal with the consequences against that person." But you can ask the matrix to forgive you if you thought you've done anything wrong. You've got total, total clear way to ask the matrix to forgive you. Because that's the only entity that can forgive you, that's based on the overall programming of the matrix. So, you can actually go to the matrix/God directly and ask for forgiveness, in reference to the one that you may have aborted, injured. And you can ask for a way to make it up to the one that you may have aborted. Or ask if there is a offset. You're not doomed. It's just that we don't understand our options.

And so, the sixth point... So, when you don't forgive the rapist, the one that has injured you in a malice way: what happens to them? Well, this is tough. Because in general, we're talking about the true rapist; they don't care. Because they've gotten away with it from incarnation, incarnation, incarnation. And many of these are masters of the matrix, coming out of the clergy. I mean, they are masters.

So, the rapist, in subsequent incarnations, will likely get some sort of disease, some sort of cancer. If they killed you or caused you to have an abortion: whatever disease that they get, they will likely die from that disease. They will come into this matrix with some form of genetic disease. And you may end up being their grandmother, mother. And you may pass the gene onto them. But you don't know.

There's many different ways in science that this can work out. You could simply pass a virus to this individual. There is many ways to skin the cat. But what's important... What's important is that you do not say, "I forgive you." You say, "I let go of my revenge.” This is the change. This is with anyone and everyone that has harmed you. And we’re talking men listening too. Anyone who’s harmed you: you do the same thing. In the matrix, too many... too many individuals have gotten away with causing people to go through their karma life, after life, after life, based on this trickery. It has to stop. It has to.

So, the seventh... So, why do men in the matrix rape, in the first place? You got to understand this. Why? It is the number one way to trick a woman to take on all of their bad karma. Remember: I said they come from the clergy, from other incarnations. And they may not be with the clergy. They may be civilian life. But they started out, in other incarnations, in the clergy. So, they—the rapists—will target women of religious background. They know the woman will eventually forgive them. That’s who their main target is. Because they know the woman has been taught, programmed, brainwashed to forgive. So, once the woman forgives, the rapist’s bad karma is passed to the injured woman.

You have to listen to this segment three times. And I know it’s shocking. But this is it.

But I know a lot of women who really get it today, and they go through the program... They go through the program, they do the exercise: they’re going to win. And you can even start by saying to yourself, if you have any genes where you’ve forgiven someone, in this incarnation or other incarnations, please cancel. You can say, “I now understand that the matrix can only forgive, only God can forgive.” Then, you can say that, all the individuals who have harmed you, you lift the actual forgiveness and instead, you replace it. You let go of your revenge towards them. And you can go to the matrix, “Forgive me,” for whatever you may have done to be in this situation in the first place.

And if you’ve had an abortion, you go through the process of asking for an offset. You can maybe come back into another incarnation, and have the child, and make it right. Or you can come into another incarnation and be a guidance counsellor, a psychologist, and work with women in another incarnation who has had an abortion. You can work with children. There’s so many options you can do, to offset that abortion.

But it’s important that you do this. I mean, women marching across Canada, women’s march... Very few people understand this truth. And they don’t realize how much power they have by accepting this truth today. What got them into their problems is the fact, other incarnations, they forgave the people who injured them, instead of just letting go of their revenge. That’s what’s going. 90% of them fall into that category, I discerned earlier today. They have been abused by men. But they chose to forgive them and they end up taking on the abuser’s karma. And the abuser just lives long, long... old, old, old. Hardly gets sick. And the young die by taking on their karma. Billy Joel. “Only the young die.” Right? Only the young? I’ve got someone writing a note here. Only the good. (laughs) Hey, same thing. (laughs) Only the good die young. (laughs) Now, that’s funny. That... You know, that’s me in the world of receiving information and being stuck in man's world at the same time. That's a collision.

(laughs) Okay, here we go.

So, the eighth point... In our society, you know, governments bring in laws against abortion, not allowing the women to go through what is written. The government punishing women, worldwide. See, religion encouraging women to forgive—again, again, again—forces a women to go to a priest for forgiveness. So, the women that have been abused, particularly if they're connected to Christianity or some sort of religion that strongly supports the whole idea of man forgiving man: they're on a treadmill. And they just come back to go through the same abuse, life, after life, after life. So, this is what this is about, is the fact that, on some level, we've all been duped. Well, the Jewish people, they have it. They've got it together. But we have to think differently. By letting go of our revenge, on some level, we are actually forgiving. But we're actually forgiving ourselves. And I've always said that when you forgive another person, it's mostly for your benefit. But the matrix was not written that way. Through a number of events and sequences, scenarios—I'm not going to talk about it—now, it's changed. We're not going to be duped anymore. The problem has been taken care of. And so, when you say, "I forgive you," it's not for your benefit; it's for theirs. They're going to pass their karma to you. And you come back in a subsequent incarnation and you have the same experience.

So, the ninth... It is like a dog's breakfast. We can only change the world by changing the way we think. Women deserve better. So, in closing this segment, I know a lot of you are shocked. But I'm not. Because I'm living proof. I was about to take on major, major, major karma from others. I checked my genes. My genes said, "Yes, Bryan, you're about to take on major, major karma." And I would not live more than a year. I would be dead within a year. And that's why I haven't been seeing anybody. It was about saving my life, so I can save your life.

And so, I've learned that I'm not going to forgive man on man. I'm going to let go of my revenge. I still slip up. Even me. Then, even when you slip up, you say, "Oh, correction. I meant to say this." And that's okay, "I meant to say this," and correct it. And ask God, the matrix, to forgive you, whatever your understanding of what God is. And ask God for an offset. If you've done something to harm somebody, ask God for an offset to make it right.

You got to understand: cardinals want the world to forgive them. The church wants you to forgive them, so they can pass all their karma to their members. And masses, you can get together and say, "We let go of our revenge against the church, against religion, against whoever." And you can do it now. Because when you start doing it now... And you can assume that you were injured in another incarnation. Just assume it. And just cover the tracks, "In case I was injured this way, I let go of my revenge towards the person, towards the government, towards anybody." And that's an exercise. You just sit by yourself. When you're home by yourself and you're doing nothing: you think about it. And do your own exercise.

So, we're going to move on to Segment 4: "Our Inner Conflict." And it is January the 20th, 2019. You're listening to Clarity Radio. And yes, you know, my name is Bryan.
